Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 17 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Staying dry and settled this weekend.

This Evening and Tonight:
Clear skies continuing across most of the region this evening, but areas of low cloud, mist and fog developing in places and probably becoming cloudier for most overnight. Turning cold and becoming frosty in places with winds staying light. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Saturday:
Fog slow to clear in places and locally persisting all day in southern areas. Otherwise, cloudier for many than Friday, although some sunnier areas are possible, most likely across Cumbria. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Remaining dry and settled. Often cloudy but bright at times with increasing amounts of sunshine by Tuesday. Risk of patchy freezing fog overnight and gradually turning colder with overnight frosts.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.